ACRA continues enrollment for its corporate credit analysis training

ACRA is continuing enrollment for its training on the fundamentals of corporate credit analysis, which will take place on March 19 and 20, 2019 (www.acra-ratings.ru/trainings).

The two-day training will be of interest primarily to those who work in financial organizations, including credit analysis experts, debt market analysts, and debt financing specialists from non-financial companies. Participants will acquire in-depth knowledge of the basics of counterparty creditworthiness assessment and improve the quality of their credit analysis. In particular, they will learn about the features of assessing credit risks, financial indicators and operating profile, as well as about finding the most important information for their analysis, working thoroughly with IFRS financial statements and building correct and clear financial models. Presentations will be followed by hands-on assignments based on domestic and international case studies.

“ACRA’s trainings on the fundamentals of corporate credit analysis help participants acquire comprehensive knowledge about the impact of various quantitative and qualitative factors of credit risk on the assessment of organizations, operating in different sectors of the Russian economy,” notes Ekaterina Mozharova, Senior Director and Head of the Corporate Ratings Group at ACRA. “ACRA’s experts will speak in detail about the most efficient and up-to-date tools of analysis, which are applied in our day-to-day activities.”

The training is intended for a group of up to 17 attendees and will be held over two days (18 academic hours). Each attendee will receive a certificate of completion. The attendance fee is RUB 45,000 per person plus VAT. The entire list of ACRA trainings is available at <https://www.acra-ratings.ru/trainings>.
